Chief Inspector Sophia Young

Leader of CT12G and the senior officer (silver command) for Operation Hawkeye.

A member of the National Police since 2034 she entered the Armed Response Command (ARC), gaining a bravery medal (QGM) for courage under fire as a constable. She shot dead three armed gang members during an armed robbery and recovered her critically wounded sergeant. Her immediate first aid stablised his condition and prevented his death. She served as a Sergeant Instructor at Hendon before passing the Inspector exam with the highest mark in her cohort. She is a graduate of the Senior Officer School and is Silver Command qualified.

She has been leading CT12G, on promotion and transfer in from ARC at the personal request of katy_coalfield.
