

Monck Security

A medium sized private security company. Around a decade old in its current form it provides security detachments to escort VIPs and provide advice on protecting key installations from a variety of threats. They also offer training & military advice for locally recruited security forces.

Based in the UK they mainly work as a specialist sub-contractors for Control Risks Group. They specialize in multi-nationality operations, boasting a wide range of English speaking operators from the UK, US, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, India, South Africa and other Commonwealth countries. They also have Dutch & German contingents.
