Eurostar Arrests

On 23rd April French police picked up three people acting suspiciously at Gare du Nord having come off the Eurostar. On questioning them it became clear that they were travelling as UK nationals, however their stories didn't make sense to the Gendarmerie and the documents looked suspicious.

On being detained for further questioning all three readily admitted that they were travelling on false identities and they attempted to claim asylum.

This claim was refused and the three suspects have been returned to the Border Command of the National Police. Running Biometrics they have been identified as GM subjects. They are currently in detention at Folkestone pending interrogation by CT12G.
