Archibald Campbell, 10th Earl of Argyll

Offices Held

- Chief of Clan Campbell

Reputation

- Known as a staunch Williamite
- seeking to recover his father's estates and restore the Earldom of Argyll which was attainted when his father supported an uprising against King James VII in 1685.

Religion

- Church of Scotland, no strong preference for episcopalian or presbytarian

Background

Archibald Campbell, 10th Earl of Argyll (born 25th July 1658).

The eldest son of Archibald Campbell, 9th Earl of Argyll and Mary Stuart, daughter of James Stuart, 4th Earl of Moray, Campbell sought to recover his father's estates (by moving into King James VII's favour). However, after failing to do so, he supported William and Mary's quest for the throne.

On March 12, 1678, he married Elizabeth Tollemache (daughter of Lionel Tollemache, 3rd Baronet of Helmingham) at Edinburgh, Scotland. They have two children:

- John Campbell (b. 10 October 1680)
- Archibald Campbell (b. June 1682)

From:
http://www.full-moon.info/ - Full Moon Games

Permanent link:
http://www.full-moon.info/doku.php/rules/clwg/1689/people/argyll

Last update: 24 Mar 2007 21:32